WIA President's Letter

Spring brings warmer temperatures and longer days and with it, more outdoor activities. Whether your preferred activity is working in the yard, playing sports, or walking through the neighborhood, it's great to be outside. As we return to the outdoors, some of the chronic quality of life problems that most neighborhoods deal with become more noticeable.

First among these is speeding. As more and more children will be moving about, particularly when the pool opens, please mind your speed. Wherever you are going is not worth the risk and consequence of an accident.

The other nuisance, while not as dangerous as speeding but probably more annoying, is people who don't clean up after their dogs. I have a big dog and don't mind cleaning up after him because it's part of the deal when you get a dog. I don't like cleaning up after someone else's dog though. While none of our streets are immune to this problem, I've received calls about a particularly troublesome stretch along Coventry. Please be responsible and clean up after your pet and remind your family dog-walkers to do the same.

Obviously not everyone who speeds or fails to clean up after their dog lives in the neighborhood. But if everyone who does live in Wiltondale slowed down and picked up their dog waste, these problems would be a little less annoying.

Baltimore County Police Department Offers Youth Leadership Academy

Girls and boys ages 14 through 18 will get an up-close look at what police work is like in the Youth Leadership Academy. This year's academy takes place June 21-26 from 8:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The first day students will meet at the Baltimore County Police Training Academy located on the Dundalk campus of the Community College of Baltimore County, 7200 Sollers Point Road, Dundalk. There is no cost to the 25 teens who will attend courses taught by Baltimore County police officers, and breakfast and lunch are provided.

The program is designed to nurture the leadership skills in young people. Each day is filled with informational talks, combined with role-playing or other hands-on activities. The teens will experience working crime scenes, traffic accident investigations, and use of radar/lidar equipment. There will be exciting K-9, tactical, aviation, and marine unit demonstrations. Police ethics, integrity, the negative effects of drug and substance abuse, the truth behind gangs, and social violence will be discussed at length.

Please call (410) 887-2587 to apply to the 2010 academy.
