Good morning Americans, it's springtime!

Thus went my favorite annual greeting from the late great broadcaster Paul Harvey (those of you under sixty-five may wish to google Paul Harvey).

Not only is it springtime, but perhaps the best time of springtime, buds merely hinting of their potential flowering, blustery winds but blowing a bit warmer, a sense of summer anticipation from the children and still we don't have to mow our lawns. Not yet anyway.

My brother in law and nephew just visited us from Central Texas for a tour of Johns Hopkins University. Darcy's typically reserved brother upon walking in our door exclaimed, "This neighborhood is beautiful"! I responded quoting the late great Al Jolson, "You ain't seen nothing yet" (those of you under eighty-five may wish to google Al Jolson).

Is there a better setting than Wiltondale in the apex of spring? Perhaps, Wiltondale after a freshly fallen snow, but in either case, poor Central Texas does not stand a chance in comparison.

HOA Dues. Many thanks to those who have already made prompt payment of their annual HOA dues. Please cross off payment of this modest fee ($40) from your to do list as soon as you are able to do so. Faster payments will reduce your Board of Director's administration work and allow them to concentrate on other creative and less mundane issues.

Wiltondale Improvement Association's raison d'etre, in a nut shell is to look out for our community interest. More specifically we act as an ombudsman with the County's administrators, legislatures and police department, cooperate with our pool committee, analyze, review and report on local zoning and development issues, run special events and represent Wiltondale in relations with other neighboring, neighborhood HOA.

This association is served by the most impressive gathering of professionals and concerned citizens, that I have ever encountered. I encourage everyone to stop by at a board meeting held at 7:30, on the second Tuesday of each month at Ascension Church.

Wiltondale.
We love it.
