Second Sunday in May.

There is not a more fitting time than the beautiful month of May to recognize, remember and honor the Mothers in our life. During our lifetime society and technology has advanced in both positive and negative directions. Paths for success and happiness as well as those for failure and despair have never been as acute as they are today. Children today are in need of maternal guidance perhaps more than ever before.

So to all the Wiltondale Mothers, who also second as taxi drivers, dieticians, chiefs, tutors, teachers, nurses, physicians, physiologist, psychologist, managers, carpenters, event planners, specialized shoppers, maids, counselors, coaches, gardeners, bringer home of bacon, repairpersons, judges, arbitrators, designers, accountants, janitors, and whatever else is needed by and for your family, thank you.

Wiltondale

One of my first encounters in the business world after ten years as a public accountant was a lunch with a former school teacher who learned and then taught farmers how to change their crops from soybeans to McMansions. He was almost laughing as he explained how the very attributes that drew the new heavily mortgaged homeowner to his or her residence of abundance, very soon became the first things they hated. Heating high atriums or space absorbing soaking tubs, used once and never again.

One point the gentleman made was almost sad. Because these developments did not have sidewalks the children were in a sense landlocked and unable to visit neighborhood friends or parks without loading up the mini-van for a family excursion. Perhaps a disjointed point, but I sometimes think of that conversation as I enjoy the sounds and sights of the children moving about through Wiltondale.

The Big Run

Please try to attend the Wiltondale 5K race or fun walk on Saturday May 21, 2016. If unable to participate, root on your favorite Wiltondale runner.

Wiltondale.

We love it.

Eddie Watt
